OVER THE EDITOR'S DESK

As we prepare this last issue of 1988 (our 35th year of continuous publishing) and review the past year, we see great strides forward for the Tennessee Genealogical Society. Although we have been in our present quarters for only four years, we have added yet another office this year. In addition to our offices for the magazine, the sales room and the library with its reading room, we have acquired another office for the administration of our business. We have bought two computers and are learning how to make them work for us. Our library has increased by about 225 books, and our sales room seems to pulsate with reprints coming in and mail bags going out. One of our major acquisitions has yet to materialize, but the wheels are in motion, and we are eagerly awaiting six boxes of books from the library of Mr. John Coddington, who was our guest in October. This will greatly expand our New England collection.

The item on disappearing family cemeteries, which appeared in this column in our Summer issue, has generated response from several people. The latest is a letter from Deloris Wynne-Riley of San Antonio. Her great-great-grandparents are buried in a family plot on what was the old Wynne farm near the Naval Air Base at Millington, Shelby Co., TN. A 1971 photograph shows the broken stones in disarray, but a search last year failed to reveal even the fragments. Buried there are: Peter Davis Wynne, died 11 May 1859 aged 68 years; Mary Ann Jones Persons Wynne, his wife, born 4 Nov 1800 - died 12 Nov 1848; Mary A.J. Wynne, 1st wife of John W. Bond. Mrs. Wynne-Riley has records of the Wynne, Persons, Davis and Terrell lines, which she is willing to share. Interested persons may write to her at 103 Hunters Branch South, San Antonio, TX 78231.

Another interesting letter came from John T. Hunley, Destinations Unlimited, 7240 Crowder Blvd. #100, New Orleans, LA 70127-1910. He says that on 17 Feb 1864 the CSS H.L. Hunley sank the Union frigate, USS Housatonic, off the coast of Charleston, SC. That event made the Hunley the world's first successful submarine. Because the submarine was built in Mobile, AL, there will be a celebration in that city at the Admiral Semmes Hotel on 17 Feb 1989. Anyone with an interest in the Hunley/Hundley name is invited to attend and bring whatever information he/she may have to share. For further information you may write Mr. Hunley at the above address or call him at this number... (504) 241-7997.

This is the time of the year to think of calendars, and although we will be well into the new year by the time you receive this issue, perhaps this next item will be helpful still. It is a Genealogical Notebook Calendar for 1989. The format is in book form, 8½x11 and plastic spiral-bound, printed on ecru heavy stock paper. The right-hand pages carry the calendar, leaving room for notes to be added by you. The left-hand pages hold general information on genealogy, thereby becoming a quick and handy reference tool for all researchers. Some of the information topics are: Information Available in Census Records (title of each column heading for 1790-1910); Sources for Genealogical Research (an extensive check-list); Genealogy Terminology; U.S. Vital Records for Each State (addresses of every office and price for copies) and the Dewey Decimal System Numbers for Countries, Regions, and States. The price is $7.00, and the calendar may be ordered from Old Time Publications, N. 3420 Donwood, Spokane, WA 99216-1707 (WA residents add 7.8% sales tax, please).

Thanks to Clarence W. Spence, this issue contains our newly computerized index. He has spent countless hours mastering the beast, and promises that it will not be so time-consuming in the future. Thank you for your patience with modern progress.

ONTO THEIR SWORDS - The Army of Tennessee at Franklin
by Kevin Duke, Company C, 7th Tennessee Cavalry, Re-enactment Unit

On the last day of November 1864, while Grant's army lay siege to Richmond and Petersburg, and Sherman's army burned its way through Georgia, one of the Civil War's bloodiest battles broke out in the small Tennessee town of Franklin. Why?

In July of that year, John Bell Hood replaced Joe Johnston as commander of the Confederate Army of Tennessee. His bloody frontal assaults failed to save Atlanta, as did his subsequent maneuvers to lure Sherman north, in order to retake the city. Groping for a way to "turn the War around," Hood renewed the old Confederate dream of invading the North. While Sherman would "march to the sea," Hood intended to march to the Ohio River.

Sherman let him go, believing he had left enough troops behind to deal with the remnants of Hood's army. However, the Union forces were much dispersed, spread out to cover Sherman's supply lines during the Atlanta campaign. Hood moved quickly, and gobbled up several small garrisons. It appeared that he might defeat such garrisons all the way into Nashville, if he continued to move quickly. Unfortunately, Hood paused two weeks, awaiting supplies and crossing the Tennessee River. The delay allowed Union forces to concentrate two strong corps under Gen. John Schofield at the Duck River crossings in Columbia, Tennessee.

On November 29, Hood launched a bold plan that almost worked. Leaving his artillery and one of his three corps to hold Schofield's attention at Columbia, Hood threw his other two corps, well vanguard by the cavalry of Nathan Bedford Forrest, around Schofield's flank. They very nearly captured the town of Spring Hill, and were still in an excellent position to cut off the Union forces and destroy them. Their failure to do so is one of the mysteries of the war that can be summed up as a general breakdown of command control and communication. Schofield's forces scurried into a strong position at Franklin. He would not have stopped at Franklin, but the bridges across the Harpeth River had been destroyed. To save his supply train he was forced to pause and repair them. An enraged John Bell Hood followed.

Hood's frustrations, disappointments, and mental condition are much of the story of Franklin. Outstanding as a hard-hitting brigade commander, and very good as a division commander, his performance as a corps commander was weak. Only a desperate Jefferson Davis, seeking a commander who could ignore reality and promise great offensives, would ignore the advice of everyone who knew Hood (including Robert E. Lee) and make him the commander of the South's second most important army. Battle wounds had cost Hood a leg and the use of an arm. Never brilliant and now a shattered man, he seemed bent on copying the bold advances of Lee and Jackson that he had helped implement, without really understanding. Hood scoffed at the Army of Tennessee's reliance on entrenched positions, and their reluctance to attack the same. This was his excuse for losing Atlanta...that the Army lacked the courage to attack. Now enraged over Spring Hill, that "the best move of my career as a soldier...had come to naught," he determined to force the Army of Tennessee into his kind of fight.

And so, about noon on November 30, his lead elements arrived at Franklin. Hood and his officers, surveying the situation, knew that Schofield's troops held a formidable position. Strong breast works, full of infantry and artillery, sat astride the Franklin-Nashville road, looking down over almost two miles of open ground - a 'killing zone' we call it today. Forrest quickly devised a plan to flank the position, but Hood seemed to feel that, for discipline and morale, what the army really needed was a frontal assault.

The attack started about 4 o'clock. The Army of Tennessee made it in the grand old way, with flags flying and bands playing, officers leading from the front, late afternoon sunlight glinting off fixed bayonets, and lines perfectly arrayed...a martial display that prompted one Federal to write, "For the moment, we were spell-bound with admiration, although they were our hated foes." Similar remarks had been made about Pickett's charge at Gettysburg. Ordering such a charge was one thing. Having the troops carry it out was another. By this late stage of the war, veteran troops had learned to judge an attack's chances for success, and usually "went to ground" early if they judged the chances insufficient for the risk.

Franklin was suicidal, and the Army of Tennessee must have known it. They also must have known that the War was nearly lost, unless some miracle occurred. Perhaps they believed sheer determination could produce that miracle.

There were 18 brigades in all, with a total strength of just 18,000 men, and virtually no artillery. Inside Franklin, Schofield had over 25,000 men, well entrenched and supported by ample artillery.

It was a futile attack, but the North did manage to help it along. Fearing a flank attack, Schofield ordered one division placed in an advanced position. Their orders to withdraw were garbled, and they were virtually overrun by the center of the Confederate assault. As the Yankees fled into the Union lines, they caused the troops there to hold their fire, and allowed the Confederates a breakthrough that would not have happened otherwise. Union reserves quickly sealed the break, with savage fighting at close quarters. But, this early success may have encouraged Hood to launch more attacks, long beyond any rational hope of success.

Like ancient Romans throwing themselves on their swords, the Army of Tennessee threw itself on Franklin. Accounts vary, but there were 12 or 13 separate attacks. Casualties were staggering. In the close-packed fighting that lasted long after dark, many wounded were hit again and again. When the shooting finally sputtered to a halt, sometime after 9 p.m., 1750 Confederates were already dead, another 5500 wounded or captured...a total of nearly 40% casualties. For the numbers of men and the time involved, this was the Confederacy's bloodiest battle. While the loss of sheer manpower was devastating, the loss of experienced commanders was disastrous... 6 generals dead, 5 wounded, another captured, 53 regimental commanders killed or wounded. Two-thirds of the Army of Tennessee virtually had no chain of command.

Schofield lost just 189 dead, and slightly over 2000 wounded or captured, for a total of under 9% losses. During the night, he withdrew to Nashville, while Hood's third corps and artillery arrived. Thus "reinforced," Hood actually ordered a barrage and assault for the next morning. How much more discipline and elan the Army of Tennessee's survivors could have gained by such a move is questionable.

By now, Hood must have known his race to the Ohio was lost. Yet, he advanced his battered, starving remnants to Nashville, where Union Gen. George Thomas waited with almost 60,000 men. Bad weather, and Thomas' attention to detail, delayed the coming battle for several weeks. Hood's army weakly dug into the frozen hillsides south of Nashville, besieging the city, while waiting for the end to come.

Though the Battle of Nashville should have been little more than a coup de grace, the Army of Tennessee showed a great deal more courage than Hood ever gave them credit for. But, after Franklin, courage was about all they had left.

Mrs. Reeder sent copies of several other family Bible records but it could not be determined if the families had a Tennessee connection which would allow us to print them. One Bible is that of Benjamin Hatchfield POWELL born 3 Aug 1838 GA, who married Melissa Adaline WALLACE born 30 Mar 1847. The 1850 Census of Morgan Co AL shows her parents, Thomas and Jane Wallace, were born in Tennessee. The other Bibles are: Elijah SMITH born 1811; Daniel Reeder born 1771 and a Wallace Bible stating Thomas William Wallace married Mary Jane HACKWORTH 16 Dec 1823.

PETITIONS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF TENNESSEE

Abstracted from Tennessee State Library and Archives MicrofilmLegislative Petitions 1812-1813, Roll No. 4(Continued from Fall issue)

61-2-1812 "Whereas the Warlike & gloomy attitude of the present crisis, very clearly indicates that a considerable number of the Militia of Said State, will inevitably be called out in defense of their Country - And, inasmuch as there hath been Writs of Ejectments Served on a large number of the inhabitants of the County of Bledsoe (and it is highly probable that a considerable number more will Shortly Share the Same fate) in consequence of their Land Claims - Now Should these Suits terminate in favor of the Plaintiffs, in the absence of the Defendants (they being in the Service of their Country) and their families be dispossessed, would consequently Subject them to very serious inconveniences..." Therefore the citizens of Bledsoe County petition to suspend the operation of the land Law "during the continuation of the present war between the United States of America and great Britain..." #### THE WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER, Paris, Tennessee

October 28, 1870

Adam Gardner of Henderson County is 106 years of age. He was born in North Carolina in 1765. He married and moved to Tennessee in 1786 and to Henderson County in 1821. He has been there 70 years. They have raised eight children, all married and gone. He and his wife are the sole occupants of their home. The old couple are as jolly as crickets. The old man with the little assistance of the wife in planting, has this year raised enough corn to do them two years. He has saved a 1000 bales of fodder unassisted. He is now directing his energies to saving a tobacco crop. His hearing is a little dull but his promise of life seems good for years yet.

Editor's Note - A quick search of census records indicates that the Adam Gardner named in the above article may have been Adam Garner whose wife was Sarah. If the article is accurate, the couple came to Tennessee before statehood and to West Tennessee as soon as it was organized from Indian lands.

Those eight children must have descendants who are eligible for a Certificate of Tennessee Ancestry, issued by the Tennessee Genealogical Society upon proof of direct lineage from this pioneer couple.

p. 46 - Jul 1821: Supreme Court of Errors & Appeals for the 4th Judicial Circuit Nashville, TN. James Tisdale, formerly of Boston, MA, for the heirs of James Tisdale, decd, intestate vs Sterling Wheaton & John Lord Wheaton of Williamson Co, minor children and heirs of Daniel Wheaton, decd, intestate, and John WHITE and Robert HODGES, counsel for the defendants. 3 Oct 1821 the case was heard before Judges Robert WHITE, John HAYWOOD and Thomas EMMERSON, from which the following facts are taken: In 1790 James Tisdale & Daniel Wheaton formed a partnership to do business in Wilmington and Fayetteville, NC. Tisdale furnished the merchandise, property and money; Wheaton had active management and moved from Rhode Island to Wilmington. Both were to share equally in profits and losses. Wheaton purchased large amounts of land in Sumner, Williamson, Maury, Dickson & Bedford Counties, and Grantors included Isaac & Elizabeth McCAMMON, John DIXON, Stokeley DONELSON, Benjamin SMITH and Alexander McCALL. Many deals were started but not yet final, including one with Martin ARMSTRONG. In 1788 Wheaton & Tisdale met in Fayetteville, NC and conveyed to Tisdale one-half of the 55,000 A tract on Forked Deer R and half of the land in Dickson, Bedford & Maury Cos. Tisdale returned to Boston and died in October, having left all of the papers for Wheaton to record. The papers remained with Wheaton until his death in 1805 when Calvin Wheaton was appointed Administrator. Calvin died intestate, and Daniel's children are minors and Wm WILKINSON of Williamson Co was appointed their Guardian. The Tisdale heirs want the Wheaton heirs to produce the deeds, titles, records etc. The Wheaton heirs rebut, saying they have turned over to the Court all the papers they have; the deed to 55,000 A on Forked Deer & 5000 on Duck R. were sent by Calvin Wheaton to H. NEWMAN, agent for Messrs BLAKE & GREENE of Boston in 1811. Mary GILMORE/GILMON has filed suit for foreclosure of a mortgage on land on the Forked Deer & Duck Rivers. Wheaton heirs have placed in the hands of Jno C. McLEMORE & James VAUX warrants yet to be located, but belonging to the firm; also placed with John HIGHTOWER other warrants. Persons who had some dealing with the principals of the case are: Thomas WILLIAMSON, Abraham MAURY, Daniel Wheaton & Thomas HICKMON (p 57); George HODGE, Peter POTTS, John MAIRS; Thos Williamson, who died testate, left land to his son John Williamson (p 59); John MANN & Philemon HODGES (p 66); Colin McDANIEL (p 69); Military Warrant #103 issued to the heirs of Henry PHILLIPS, #5043 issued to the heirs of

This book consists of listings from 173 cemeteries in Attala Co., which was formed in 1833 from the Choctaw Cession, and which lies in the heart of the state. An additional 14 cemeteries in adjoining counties were copied and included in the book. The Table of Contents is an alphabetical list of the cemeteries, giving Township, Range and Section numbers for each. These may be used on the 17x11 map, which is included, for locating a specific cemetery. Some of this information has been obtained from old family cemeteries which have been abandoned.

SMOKY MOUNTAIN COUNTRY by North Callahan. Reprint 1988. Hard back. 6x9, 257 pp. Indexed. Order from the Smoky Mountain Historical Society, P.O. Box 5078, Sevierville, TN 37864. $21.20.

Written by a native East Tennessean who is now a New York journalist, this informative and entertaining book tells of the many pioneer families who came into that "Eden of the Lower Appalachians", known as the Great Smoky Mountains, in the latter part of the 18th century. Stories about William Bean, James Robertson, and John Sevier, as well as lesser known people like the Harp Brothers, Thomas Leiper and the Walker sisters, provide an accurate picture of that area, due to the author's first hand knowledge of his subject.

TICHENOR FAMILIES IN AMERICA compiled by Harold A Tichenor. 1988. Hard back. 8½x11, 736 pp. Indexed. Order from the compiler, Rt. #4, Box 1016, Naptown, MO 65340. $45.50.

This genealogy is a compilation of approximately 340 contributors and includes sixteen Tichenor lines in America. Some contributors have proven relationship, others have not; but all share the family name of Tichenor, and their documentation is included. This book contains revised and corrected material from a former book by the same author, which was concerned with descendants of Martin Tichenor who took the oath of allegiance at New Haven Colony in 1644. Added to Martin's line are the descendants of Aaron, Daniel, James, Jonathan, Walter and Zopher Tichenor. Although most of them resided in New Jersey, extensive research was done in other court houses, libraries, and archives, to obtain land records, marriages, deaths, births, etc in the areas where Tichenors lived. Information on the younger generations was obtained from family interviews, which bring the lines up to the present date. Many allied lines are also included.

ALABAMA SOLDIERS, Revolution, War of 1812, and Indian Wars, Vol. 11 compiled by Pauline Jones Gandrud, and edited by Bobbie Jones McLane. 1988. Soft back. 8½x11, 100 pp. Indexed. Order from Arkansas Ancestors, 222 McMahan Dr., Hot Springs, AR 71913. $15.00.

The late Mrs. Gandrud, well-known Alabama genealogist, compiled 45 notebooks of records relating to soldiers who at some time lived in the state of Alabama. Mrs. McLane has edited the material, which is alphabetically arranged, giving records that are most genealogically important for each soldier: pensions, bounty land warrants, wills, heirs, Bible records, tombstone inscriptions, obituaries, census records etc. This series, when finished, will be the most complete listing of Alabama soldiers published to date. Eleven volumes have already been published with Volume 1 encompassing names beginning with A - Ba; this volume contains surnames Hanby-Henderson. All volumes are currently available and sell for $15.00 each.

ROWAN COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA VACANT LAND ENTRIES 1778-1789 by Richard A Enochs. 1988. Hard back. 8½x11, 280 pp. Indexed. Order from the author, 8221 Forsythia Ct., Indianapolis, IN 46219. $32.00 (Indiana residents add 5% sales tax).

Hailed as a major undertaking essential to any study of early settlers of this area, this book of land entries is of particular importance to the genealogical researcher because of the historical time period it encompasses. The newly-formed state of North Carolina opened its Land Office in 1778, and many persons who may have been living on their land for as much as fifteen years sought to gain legal title to it. In his Foreword, Mr. Enochs describes the situation from the historical, legal, geographical and temporal viewpoints, enabling the researcher to get a better picture of his ancestor's land holdings. His abstracts supply many names of original owners and indicate former occupancy by mentioning "improvements." Land descriptions frequently mention adjoining land owners, thus providing other possible family connections. Mr. Enochs has made available a very important source, which he hopes will stimulate further research.

KERSHNER KINFOLK, Vol. 7 W.E. Kershner, Editor. 1988. Soft back. 8½x11, 126 pp. Indexed. Order from the Kershner Family Association, 1449 Fox Run Dr., Charlotte, NC 28212-7125. $12.00.

This latest volume of the Kershner Family periodicals includes the four quarterlies for 1988 and the index for 1985-1987. Among the topics covered are: Lehigh County, PA Kershners; Descendants of Martin Kershner; Rolf and Ursel's Diary; The Story of Nathaniel Rochester; Supplement to Descendants of Henrich Kershner; Descendants of Anna Maria K. Kershner of Berks County Pennsylvania; an account of a visit with Kershners in Langenselbold, West Germany.

THE BROTHERS REV. ROBERT ROSE AND REV. CHARLES ROSE of Colonial Virginia and Wester Alves, Morayshire, Scotland, With information on their brothers Patrick, James, Hugh, George and Alexander by Christine Rose, C.G. 1985. Hard back. 6x9, 318 pp. Indexed. Order from the author, 1474 Montelegre Dr., San Jose, CA 95120. $26.50 (CA residents add $1.63 sales tax).

Ancestry of the Rose brothers is deeply rooted in Scotland. Descending from Hugh Rose, the 8th Baron of Kilravock, their lineage has been traced to Hugh of Geddes about 1200. Robert Rose, aged about 21 and newly ordained, came to Essex and Albemarle Counties of Virginia about 1725. He was the son of John and Margaret (Grant) Rose of Morayshire, Scotland; Charles Rose, brother of Robert, came to the colonies about ten years later. This book outlines seven generations of Robert's descendants and five generations of Charles' descendants. In addition to reporting life in Scotland and Virginia, it presents portraits of family members, pictures of their homes and a map prepared by Col. Murray F. Rose depicting the Rose holdings on the eastern shore of Virginia.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY, TENNESSEE A Genealogical Abstract of the County Court Minutes, 1804-1806 by Carol Wells. 1988. Soft back. 8½x11, 89 pp. Indexed. Order from Ericson Books, 1614 Redbud, Nacogdoches, TX 75961. $14.40 ppd.

In the words of the author, "From County Court Minutes comes the breath of life. No mere recital of heirs or list of dates of births and burials, the minutes tell how our ancestors found solutions in their own community to problems of poverty, orphans, insanity, road repair, education to a livelihood; how they came together to hear disputes, and how punishment was meted out". The jury lists and road crews give evidence of persons who were residents before the time of any extant census, and researchers of Williamson County will find this book most helpful in documentation of this period.

CARROLL COUNTY, TENNESSEE MARRIAGE RECORDS VOLUME II 1860-1880 compiled by Carroll County Historical Society. 1988. Soft back 8½x11, 155 pp. Indexed. Order from the Society, 141 North Broadway, McKenzie, TN 38201. $17.00.

There is an advantage in having local people transcribe records in that they are familiar with the family names of their community. This is the case with these marriage records, which are computer printed in alphabetical order by the groom's names. The index consists of the brides' names. In most cases, either the officiant or a Bondsman is listed. The Society has previously published Marriages Volume I, 1838-1859 and the 1860 Census of Carroll County.

SKETCHES OF THE OLIVERS, A Family History 1726 to 1966 by Col. Hugh R. and Margaret T. Oliver. 1987. Hard back. 6x9, 571 pp. Indexed. Order from Col. Oliver, Box 786 CCNC, Pinehurst NC 28374. $32.00.

The chronology of this book follows the author's research, which begins with the present and moves back generation by generation through the pages of frontier America. The first chapter focuses on Elder John Walter Oliver (1878-1966) who lived his entire life in Cades Cove, Blount County, TN. The date of settlement in Cades Cove has been handed down by oral tradition as 1818 but this book provides evidence that the Oliver family was in Carter County, TN until 1821 and was probably the same Oliver family recorded in early Washington County documents. The John Oliver (1780/90-1863) who came to the valley in 1821 was the first white settler to raise a family there amid the dangers and hardships endured by early settlers. The earliest Oliver on record in this family was George (1726-1786) who was born in Stafford Co., VA and died in Rockingham Co., NC. He had ten sons. The authors give detailed accounts of their research which include full transcripts of census records, affidavits, court minutes etc., offering them as evidence and stating the conclusions they have reached. An Appendix gives appropriate census records and maps for thirteen states.

DEED BOOK 3 AND DEED BOOK 4 AMELIA COUNTY, VIRGINIA DEEDS 1747-1753 abstracted by Gibson Jefferson McConnaughey. 1988. Soft back. 8½x11, 161 pp. Indexed. Order from Mid-South Publishing Co., P.O. Box 188, Amelia, VA 23002. $21.75 (VA residents add 90¢ sales tax).

At the time these deed books were originally written, Amelia County, formed in 1734/5, still held land that was cut off in 1754 to form Prince Edward County, as well as land that became Nottaway County in 1789. Therefore, this book is a research tool for all three counties. The deeds have been carefully abstracted, with names spelled as written. Relinquishment of dower provides a number of wives' names. A full name index includes place names and streams. Notes on the formation of parishes within the county and information on the calendar change of 1751 are helpful reminders.

THE PLANTE FAMILY, The Story of...Ten Generations Since 1650 by Remi Plante. 1988. Soft back. 8x11, 224 pp. Indexed. Order from Mr. Plante, 200 Rideau Ter. #505, Ottawa (Ont.) KIM 0Z3. $40.00.

Jean Plante, born 1621, the eldest child of Nicholas Plante and Elizabeth Chauvin of LaRochelle, France, is the progenitor of the Plante family in Quebec. He came to Canada in the mid 1600s. He married Francoise Boucher of Quebec and was the father of twelve children who spread into all parts of Canada and New England. This family history is presented in an unusual manner - it reads like a novel. The author has done extensive research on each generation, providing many records of births, deaths, marriages, pictures and family charts. To honor his French ancestors, the history was first written in French and then translated into English for the benefit of relatives who have migrated to regions where the English language prevails.

THE SQUIRE SIMMONS FAMILY, 1746-1986 by Dorothy Geneva Simmons Skelton. 1986. Hard back, loose-leaf bound. 8½x11, 985 pp. Indexed. Order from Mrs. John W. Skelton, Lotos Lakes, Brightwood, VA 22715. $68.00 postpaid.

This tome of family information, well-documented and beautifully printed, is divided into ten parts including the index. Beginning with the ancestors of Squire Simmons, Mrs. Skelton has pictured the life-style of William Ledford, William Buis and William Simmons in eighteenth century Virginia and North Carolina. She has placed family members in context with historical events throughout the book, and has furnished reproductions of original documents to support her statements. Following the families' moves westward from Georgia to Kansas, Oklahoma and Wyoming, she narrates the major events of the lives of Simmons kin. The physical properties of this book are quite impressive; the cover is strong and designed to last through many years of handling. The pages are loose-leaf on heavy metal rods which can be opened for additions.

GRAVES COUNTY, KENTUCKY CEMETERIES compiled by Graves County Genealogical Society. 1987. Soft back. 8½x11, 197 pp. Indexed. Order from the Society, P.O. Box 245, Mayfield, KY 42066. $13.00 (residents of Kentucky add 5% sales tax).

This is the sixth and final volume of cemeteries published by the Society. Volumes III through V are available at the same price. Volume Six includes all available information from ninety-one cemeteries, as well as any additional comment on the condition of the marker. Location of each graveyard is included, as are notes made from 1902 to 1907 by Vera Mason of Boaz, KY. A section of additions, corrections and updated notes applies to cemeteries reported in previous volumes, as well as to the current one. These notes frequently add current contacts.

DESCENDANTS OF JAMES AND ELIZABETH FERGUSON, BEDFORD COUNTY (NOW MARSHALL), TENNESSEE compiled by Herman W. Ferguson. 1988. Soft back. 8½x11, 135 pp. Indexed. Order from the compiler, 600 Chad Dr., Rocky Mount, NC 27803. $17.50 (NC residents add 5% sales tax).

This book contains a narrative chart of the descendants of James Ferguson (1757-1816) and his wife Elizabeth Fleming (1763-1848) and biographical sketches of six of the older members of the family. James and Betsy lived in Iredell Co., NC before moving to Bedford (now Marshall) Co., Tennessee about 1807. Most of the persons listed in the book are descended from their two sons, John Fleming Ferguson (1797-1870) and Ancel Harrison Ferguson (1800-1881). Ancel settled in Pontotoc County, Mississippi. Allied lines of the family are: Fleming, Dudley, Britain, Buchanan, Yetzer and Zimmerle. Large print and ivory pages enhance the appearance of the book and make it easy to read.
